

Sort It Out

A good bit of sand has trickled through the hourglass of your life during the past 5 days. Let's see if we can sort out your use of God's time. There are many ways to do this., but let's try this: Go back to your chart. Mark each item with LG or LN as follows:

LG: Loving God activities. Which of your activities during this week reflect your love for God – His presence, Word, salvation, work, creation, or appearing? Which are a manifestation of the fear of God in your life? How, looking at your life during this week, is it clear that love for God is the guiding motif of your life?

LN: Loving neighbors activities. Jesus was Seeker, Servant, Shepherd, Sower, and Steward toward others. In which of your daily activities can you see these roles reflected or being fulfilled? How is it evident from the time of your life that you love your neighbors as Christ loves you?

Your Totals

Enter the totals for how you used the time God gave you this week:

Amount of LG time: _____

Amount of LN Time: _____

How do you feel about the amount of time devoted to each of these outcomes during the past 5 days?

How much of the time of your life would you describe as having been wasted, or at least, difficult to put into one of these two categories, during this period?

On a scale of 1 to 10, where 10 is the highest rating, how would you assess your overall use of the time of your life during the past 5 days?

Why did you choose that number?
